

3-1-1988

Introduction

Eric J. Schmertz

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.law.hofstra.edu/hplj>

Recommended Citation

Schmertz, Eric J. (1988) "Introduction," Hofstra Property Law Journal: Vol. 1 : Iss. 1 , Article 3.
Available at: <https://scholarlycommons.law.hofstra.edu/hplj/vol1/iss1/3>

This Introduction is brought to you for free and open access by Scholarly Commons at Hofstra Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in Hofstra Property Law Journal by an authorized editor of Scholarly Commons at Hofstra Law. For more information, please contact lawcls@hofstra.edu.

INTRODUCTION

HOFSTRA PROPERTY LAW JOURNAL

The Hofstra University School of Law is indeed pleased to welcome this inaugural issue of the Hofstra Property Law Journal. This Journal is the successor to the International Property Investment Journal.

We think the transformation not only makes sense academically and professionally, but will result in a wide and appreciated interest in the Property Law Journal among practitioners in the real property and real estate field.

Whereas the International Property Investment Journal devoted itself primarily to important but possibly esoteric subjects dealing with property matters of an international scope and concept, thereby appealing to a select but smaller group of scholars and practitioners, this new Property Law Journal, with articles on more traditional property subject matters should contribute information to a wider group of readers, thereby enlarging the contribution to scholarship in the property field.

We look forward to a successful series of publications of the Hofstra Property Law Journal. We wish it, its editors and members every success in its important activities.

Eric J. Schmertz
Dean