There is a professor named Gans,
Who speaks of estates and their plans,
He talks of annuities
And perpetuities,
Which not even he understands.
Like a Contracts Professor

Like a contracts professor
Getting cards and letters from students I don’t even know
Firm offers coming over the phone.

I’ve been teaching this course so long
Singing the same old song
Assigning the pages I’ve written in my book of contracts.

Where the code is the name of the game
Inconsistencies flowing like rain
I know all the tricks in the book and I’ve used them all my way

There’s not a bit of compromising on the road to my uprising and I’m going to be where the lights are shining on me.

Like a contracts professor
Giving three rules of law when only one will do
And no one knowing what to do.
