The Future of the Legal Profession: Innovation, Technology and Regulation

Howard Lichtenstein Distinguished Professorship in Legal Ethics Lecture delivered by

Andrew M. Perlman
Dean and Professor of Law
Suffolk University Law School

Thursday, March 9
noon-1 p.m.
Sidney R. Siben and Walter Siben
Moot Courtroom, Room 308

Andrew M. Perlman is a nationally recognized voice on the future of legal education and law practice. He was the chief reporter of the American Bar Association Commission on Ethics 20/20 and the vice chair of the ABA Commission on the Future of Legal Services. More recently, he was appointed by the president of the American Bar Association to serve as the chair of the governing council of the ABA’s new Center for Innovation. Dean Perlman also was the founding director of Suffolk’s Institute on Law Practice Technology and Innovation as well as the related Legal Technology and Innovation Concentration. He is a widely cited scholar on professional responsibility and has co-written a civil procedure casebook that has been adopted at more than 70 law schools. Before entering academia, Dean Perlman clerked for a federal district court judge in Chicago and practiced as a litigator there. He is an honors graduate of Yale College and Harvard Law School, and he received his LL.M. from Columbia Law School.

Howard Lichtenstein Distinguished Professorship was established in 1989 to remember Howard Lichtenstein, an outstanding lawyer with a genuine interest in legal education and the training and development of young lawyers. During his 44 years of practice, his primary concentration was in the field of labor law. As a senior partner at the law firm Proskauer Rose Goetz & Mendelsohn (now known as Proskauer Rose LLP), he was considered an authority on administrative law. In addition, Mr. Lichtenstein was a strong advocate for improving the teaching of legal ethics. The professorship is currently held by Ellen Yaroshefsky.