In 1872 Ulysses S. Grant was President, Susan B. Anthony was arrested for trying to vote and Darby Printing Company was founded.

One hundred and twenty years later President Grant and Susan B. are history, but Darby Printing Company is still around and growing. We can attribute our continued growth to sound business decisions, the willingness to explore new technology and our old fashioned commitment to quality and service.

In recent years, developing a package of customized services for Law Reviews has been our top priority. Assigned sales representatives, disk conversion, desk-top publishing, 24-hour telecommunications, same day turnaround and subscription fulfillment are just a few features we offer. To find out how Darby can make publishing your next Law Review easier, call now. If you can't call now, call tomorrow.

We'll still be here.
